- VI. Public Input/ Correspondence:
 - A thank you card was received from Taryn Holt for the LSC scholarship.
 - Suzy Holmes shared an email from another county of how they have a “pre-fair” section of their newspaper wherein kids have a picture of them with their animal(s) they will be selling, so buyers can have a preview of what is available. Jason suggested having a float in the July 4 and 24 parade(s) to thank the 2020 buyers. Since Jason will be working July 3rd, he will check with Angela to see if she could drive the float. Julie also offered help as needed. Ami will have 2 sets of 11x17 posters made with buyer names on them to be laminated and hung on the float trailer. After entries are received, Ami’s office will send out a mass email asking parents of livestock exhibitors to post a picture of their child and their market animals to Facebook and tag UCFair so more potential buyers can see what will be sold during the livestock sale.
- VII. Old Business:
 - Rhett said the buyers and parents he talked to about the livestock sale location were pretty much unanimous that they wanted it back at the sale ring with the animals and to have seating more spaced out where possible. Julie had ½ and ½ responses to hold it in the arena or at the sale ring and that most said they don’t come to see or buy the animals at all, they are there for the kids. Brandon suggested moving back to the sale ring and making the sale ring wider and deeper to fit more bleachers around. LSC members will meet at the show ring Thursday night to help design the new set-up so it can be set by the staff prior to round robin Friday morning.
 - Locations that will offer gift cards/certificates were discussed and it was asked to check a few other locations and add them if they are interested.
- VIII. New Business:
 - Numbers of tagged animals were reviewed

- The committee would like to have the 2020 Buyer Thank You page shared on social media and will further discuss printing it in the newspapers or not.
- The proposed buyer picture design was approved
- The livestock sale book will be printed in the same format as last year, with pictures printed in it.
- The next meeting will be held July 14 at 6:00 pm at the fairgrounds. Jason will talk to Dave Taylor about possibly catering. Rhett will contact Dang Good BBQ as a backup.
- Julie said Sara Hooten has junior leaders that need volunteer hours and would be willing to help out as runners.
- Meeting adjourned at 8:22 pm
